

How it Works

Start by purchasing an access pass either online, or at any B-station when you're ready to ride. Checkout a B-cycle from any B-station, ride, and return it to any other B-station that is closer to your final destination. When you're ready to ride again, use the same credit card or access pass to checkout another B-cycle. It's that simple!

You can take an unlimited number of trips during your access period. All trips 30 minutes or less are included in the cost of your access pass.
